About

This article outlines the current gaps between the legacy Video Portal and Content Hubs, the Theming-based Video Portal experience.

Content Hubs refers to the legacy Video Portal when the Theming design system is enabled (in other words, legacy Video Portal + Theming = Content Hubs).

The list below highlights features that are not available or have changed in the Theming experience:

Current feature gaps

Media page & edit experience

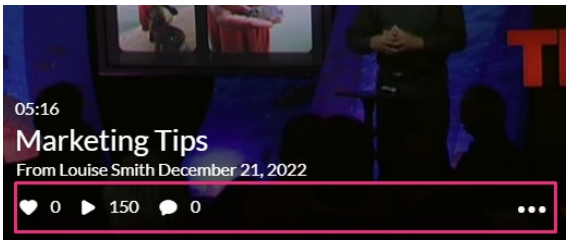
- Registration forms for single entries will not be supported.

Channel page & edit experience

- Channel topics will not be supported (Channel Collections now serve this purpose).

Channels and galleries

- Collapsed and table view options are not available on channel pages.
- Detailed, collapsed, and table view options are not available on gallery pages.
- Action buttons (for example, 'Edit', 'Analytics') and media details (for example, 'owner', likes) are intentionally excluded.



Upload

- Ability to add collaborators (co-editors, co-publishers, and co-viewers) during upload.

Creation flow

- The editing experience for Interactive Video and media stitching still uses the legacy design. Both are available from the +Create menu.

My Calendar and My Dashboard

- The redesign of My Calendar and My Dashboard isn't available yet. These pages still use the legacy design.

Media page

- Some “Add to” actions are not available.

My Media

- Some actions are missing from the 'actions' menu (three dots), for example, 'Add to Playlist' and 'Captions'.
- Bulk actions: 'Captions & enrichment', 'Set metadata', 'Add/Remove tags'.
- Table or collapsed views (only the detailed view is available).

Single media edit

- Ability to add chapters and slides (timeline editor).

Playlists

- Ability to set and display tags on playlists.

Analytics

- Quiz analytics is not yet supported in Content Hubs. Users must access the legacy Video Portal experience to view quiz analytics.
