i Legacy notice

If you're setting up a new event, we recommend using Live Studio, our modernized live event experience. See Introduction to Live Studio for more information. If your organization is still using the legacy webcasting product, this article still applies.

As the presenter in a live Webcasting event, you are the main focus of the event. When preparing for a live event, these are the key factors you should be aware of as the presenter:

1. Prepare the slidedeck in advance.
2. Remember that there is no support for slide animations or embedded videos in the slides.
3. Don't forget to use the Polls feature, which is of the best engagement tools for presenters, allowing you to connect to the live audience and engage the audience interactively.
4. Interact with the audience by soliciting questions from the audience. If there is a local audience, it's particularly important to engage the live audience watching the broadcast.
5. Be prepared - plan to be at the live event venue earlier than the speaking engagement.
