About

This article explains how to show or hide the Scheduling tab.

The Lecture Capture setting for turning the scheduling feature on or off is in the config.json file. The default for the Scheduling parameter is True (on). See Configure Lecture Capture files and parameters for the exact location and parameter to enable or disable scheduling.

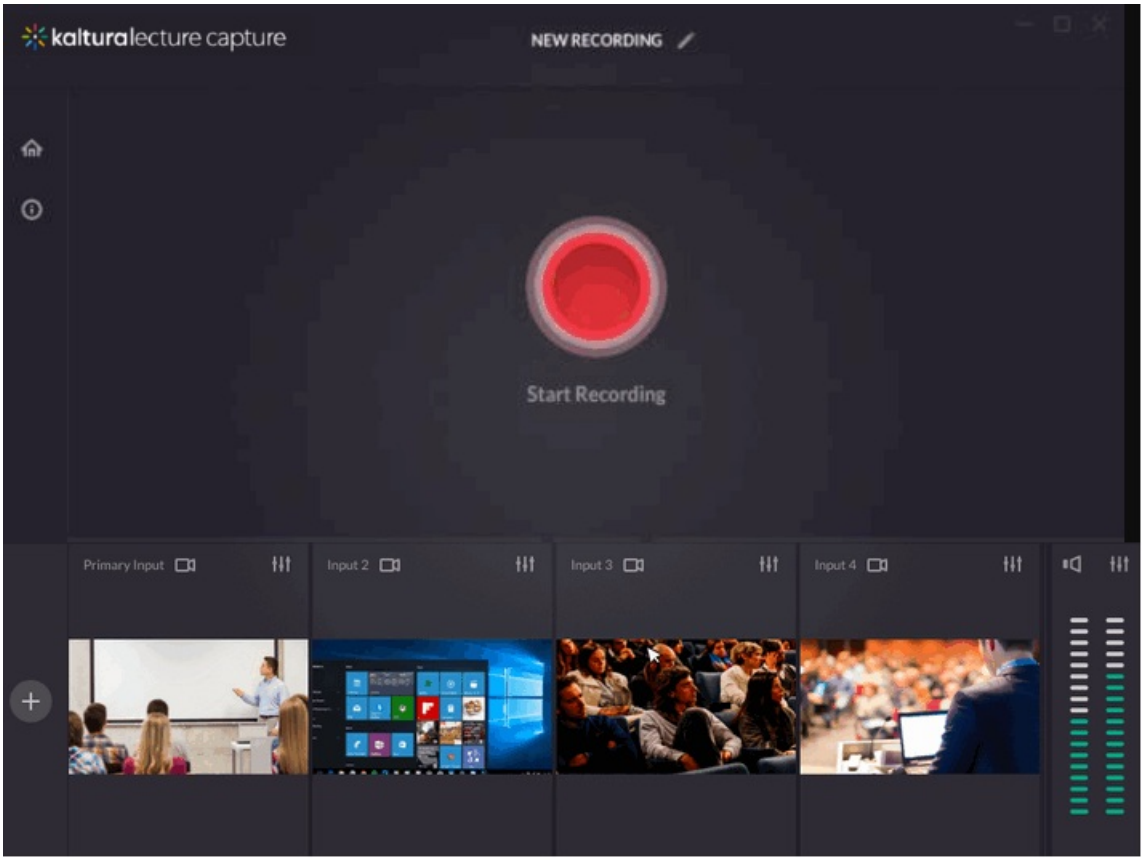

The following shows Lecture Capture with the Scheduling parameter set to True.

If the Scheduling parameter is disabled (set to False) in the config.json file, you can still create a recording event in Content Hubs, but the event isn't recorded on the resource. The Schedule tab doesn't appear in Lecture Capture.

The following shows Lecture Capture with the Scheduling parameter set to False.
