About

Ten minutes before a scheduled session ends, Lecture Capture offers you the option to extend the recording in five-minute increments.

Extending a recording delays the next scheduled session.

Extend the recording

1. When the extension option appears, click the plus icon to add five minutes.

2. To add more time, click the plus icon again. You can extend the recording more than once.

If the session is broadcasting live, the broadcast continues while the extended recording is in progress.
