

How to create a custom static page

Using the 'Staticpages' module, you can create a custom page in Mediaspace which will present your own HTML embed code. In order to edit a static page, please access the module in the MediaSpace Administration page under 'Staticpages'. The page can be identified by the slug field (the extension added to the MediaSpace link that refers to the page). There you can find the HTML content of the page and edit it.
