

Channel Page Guide

This article describes the components of the Channel page and the deliverables required for display and configuration.

A channel page is a collection of content. Users can add information, descriptions, playlists, and much more to the channel. Create the channel page with welcome videos, different playlists, and customized CTA buttons that allow the user to navigate effortlessly to different pages internally or externally. Attendees can also reach out to moderators on channel pages creating space to engage and connect.

HR Information Systems Overview

While there are many benefits of using HR software, one of the biggest is its ability to reduce the time spent on repetitive, low-impact administrative tasks, which allows HR professionals to focus on more productive responsibilities and longer-term strategic outcomes.

Inclusion and Diversity

Diversity and inclusion is a sizeable challenge for any organisation, especially those that have previously been less diverse and demonstrably exclusive.
