My Media

All the uploaded media can be found in My Media, your personal media storage. It is different for each user because it shows media you, yourself, have uploaded or created over time. The same "My Media" list is available to you from each channel/course, and items in My Media can be published in one or more channels/courses. Items in My Media are private to you until they are published somewhere. You can also add other users as collaborators on your media from within My Media. For additional information, see My Media.
