This article is designated for Kaltura's Flagship Events customers

Kaltura's interactive video tools empower creators and event organizers to transform traditional video into engaging, participatory experiences. From embedding quizzes and clickable hotspots to building interactive paths and leveraging the Kaltura Player's on-screen tools, these features enable viewers to actively engage with content rather than passively watch. The following articles provide an overview of each tool and practical guidance on how to use them to create dynamics, data-driven video experiences.
