 This article is designated for all users.

About

This article describes the Kaltura Events experience for the attendee.

Depending on how the event was configured, attendees are required to login to the event in one of three ways - with an email and password, with a login link via email (AKA "Magic Link"), or via Single Sign-on (SSO). This article describes all three scenarios.

Access the event site with an email and password

1. If you are invited to an event with email and password, you receive an email prompting you to create a password.

Hi Jane!

We are glad to invite you to Quarterly Sales Event, which is happening on October 13th 2023, 10:00 am at America/New_York. We look forward to seeing you there.

To get you set up, please click on the link below to create your password.

Access the event site via Single Sign-on (SSO)

If your organization has enabled SSO for an event (an identification method that streamlines the authentication process for users), you will be asked to enter your credentials to access the event site. Depending on how your event was configured, the information you are asked to provide during the login process and the wording on the screens may differ.

Authentication through your IdP is required before you may access the event. If you haven't authenticated before beginning the process of logging into the event, you will be asked to do so. Steps to complete the authentication may include entering a username and password, sending a "push" notification to obtain an authentication code, etc.

Join a session
