About

This guide explains how to add a Kaltura Video Quiz to your Brightspace course so that student scores are automatically recorded in the gradebook.

There are two ways to add a Kaltura Video Quiz in Brightspace:

Method 1: Add as a standalone activity - This option adds the quiz as its own topic in a module using the Add existing activities option. The grade item is created automatically and you can adjust the points before students start.

Method 2: Embed using 'Insert Stuff' - This option lets you place the quiz inside a page, announcement, or anywhere there's a text editor with the Insert Stuff button. This is useful if you want to add extra instructions or context. The grade item is created automatically, but only after the first student submits the quiz.

Each method works well - choose the one that best fits where you want students to access the quiz and how you'd like it to appear in your course.

Method 1: Add your assignment as a standalone activity

- 1. Create a video quiz in your My Media. (See Kaltura Video Quiz in Brightspace to learn how.)
- 2. Go to your course.
- 3. Open the Existing Activities drop-down and select the Kaltura option (the exact name may vary, for example, 'Insert Media from Kaltura').

Connect it to the gradebook

- a. Click the assignment title.
- b. Scroll down to the Assessment section.
- c. Create a new grade item or link it to an existing one.

Check it's in the gradebook

a. Click the Grades tab.

b. Click Manage grades.

Method 2: Embed your video quiz using 'Insert Stuff'

If you'd rather embed your Kaltura Interactive Video Quiz inside a page, announcement, or anywhere there's a text editor, you can use the Insert Stuff option. This is handy if you want to add instructions or extra context around the quiz.

When you use Insert Stuff, the grade item is created automatically after the first student submits the quiz.

 Open any area in Brightspace that has a text editor, for example, click the New dop-down menu and select Create a File, or inside an announcement or assignment description.
