About

Account owners/admin who manage multiple events may find it helpful to view sessions in a "week view". This feature provides a snapshot of all sessions scheduled over the next seven days (today + 6 days), helping streamline planning and oversight.

Access the week view

On the All Events page of your account, click the Week view button.

Get to know the week view

This view provides a clear, time-organized display of all upcoming activity, helping you stay informed and in control of your event schedules.

The week is divided by days based on your local time zone, with sessions listed in chronological order by start time. If session start times are identical, they are sorted alphabetically by session name.

Each session card displays the session time, session name, and the event which it is part of (indicated by a calendar icon). If the session name is identical to the event name, only the session time and session name is displayed. The event name is not displayed to reduce redundancy.
