About

You can test your agent on its stand-alone agent site to experience it as your users will. Start a conversation and interact with your agent to check the user experience before sharing the site with users.

Conversations on the agent site consume interactions.

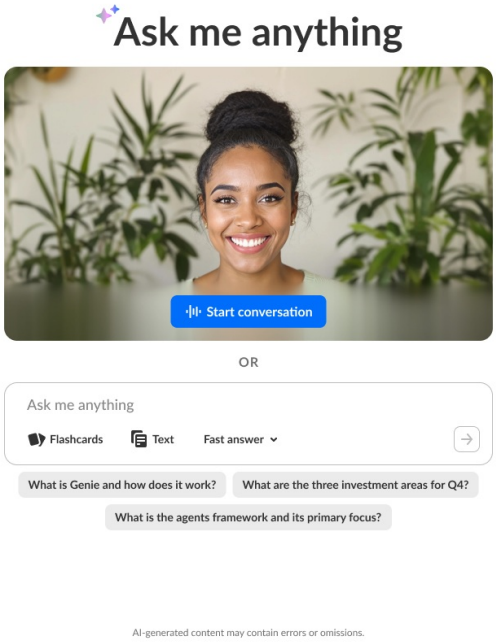

Open agent site

On the Overview page, click Open agent site.

The stand-alone media page for your agent opens.

Interact with your agent

The 'Ask me anything' experience shows the following:

- An Agentic Avatar
- A Start conversation button
- The Ask me anything input field below

Start a conversation with the Agentic Avatar

Click Start conversation.

The experience switches to a full-screen avatar view.

During the conversation

When the avatar loads, it greets you and introduces itself as an agent. If available, it can use basic profile information (e.g. your name) to personalize the conversation.

Speak naturally to the avatar and ask your question.

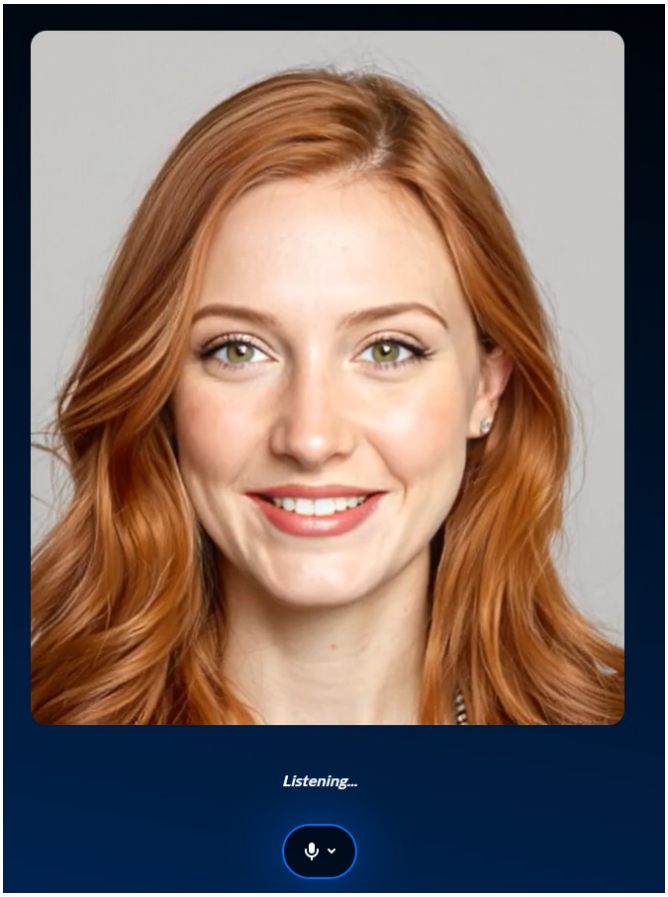

You can:

- Interrupt the avatar while it’s speaking
- End the conversation at any time

Microphone indicators

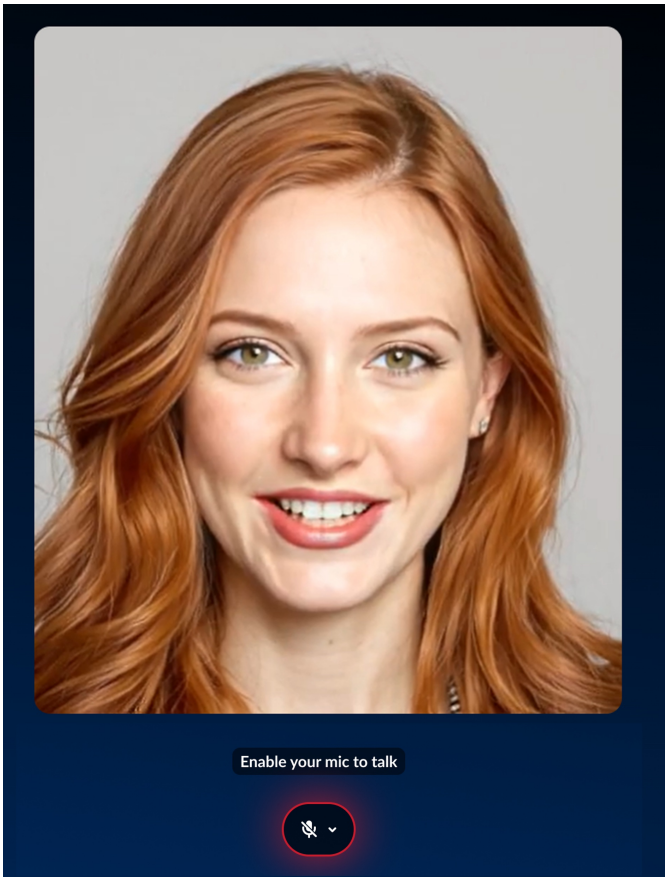

When your microphone is active and you’re speaking, a blue glow appears on the microphone button.
