About

You can organize your personal My Media library using folders. You can create folders, build nested structures, and move your media into them for easier access and management.

Your folders are private and visible only to you.

 This feature requires the Folders module to be enabled.

When enabled, a 'My folders' section appears on the left side of the My Media page.

The screenshot shows the 'My Media' interface. On the left, there is a sidebar with a search bar and a list of filters. The 'My folders' filter is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to its plus sign. The main content area displays a list of media items:

- Draft entry - test: Draft • Owner • 0 Plays • Private

- Building Your Digital Portfolio: Image • Owner • 2 Plays • Published
- Introduction to Video Production: Video • Owner • 2 Views • 2 Plays • Published

Click the arrow to expand it and view the Unfiled media folder, which contains items not yet placed in a folder.

Repeat these steps to create more folders.

Each user can create up to 500 folders (including subfolders).

Create a subfolder

You can create folders up to three levels deep.

1. To the right of the My folders section, click the plus icon (+)
The 'Create folder' window opens.
2. Enter a folder name (folder names must be unique within the same location, but you can reuse the same name in different branches).
3. In the Choose folder location section, select the parent folder where you want to place your new folder.

4. Click Save.

A confirmation message displays and your new subfolder appears inside the parent folder.

Add media to a folder

Option 1: Drag and drop

In My Media, drag and drop a single item into the desired folder.

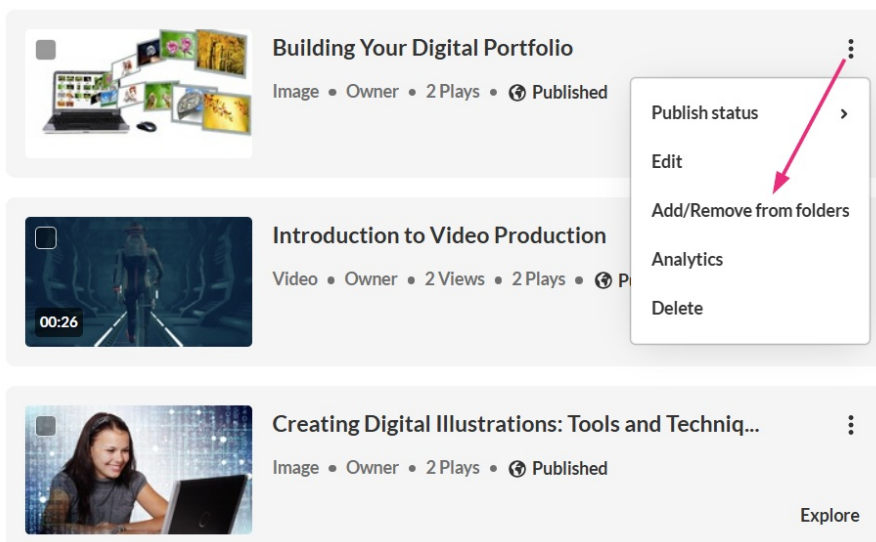

For multiple items, select them using the checkboxes, then drag and drop into the folder.

Option 2: Use the three-dot menu

For a single item:

1. Click the three-dot menu to the far right of the media item.
2. From the menu, select Add to / Remove from folders.

The 'Add to/Remove from folders' window opens.

- Click Delete to continue.

Update a folder

You can rename a folder or move it to a different location in your folder structure. When you move a folder, all its subfolders and media move with it.

1. In the My Folders section, select the folder you want to update.

At the top of the page, you'll see the folder's location displayed as a navigation path (showing where you are in your folder structure).

2. Next to the folder name, click the three dots and select Update folder.
